AGRESTI

The luxurious feeling you get when wearing fine watches and jewellery should be matched by a feeling of safety and security regarding those pieces when you're not wearing them. This is where Italian brand Agresti comes in. The company has over 60 years of experience in creating elegant strongboxes, chests and fine furniture designed to protect all manner of precious items, from watches and jewellery to documents and fine spirits. At the Agresti showroom in Milan, visitors can explore the company's range of unique products, including the beautiful Lei-Lui Artico armoured jewellery armoire (pictured), ideal for keeping even the most precious pieces safe.

KIKO ID

In late 2017 Kiko Milano opened Kiko ID, the beauty brand's largest store in the world. High ceilings, large windows and a mainly white palette create an ideal environment in which to discover the brand's products. Sustainability and smart technology are crucial elements of the store's design. Highlights include a robot designed specifically for the brand and equipped with a touchscreen; it allows visitors to customise Kiko products, such as lipsticks, in order to create the perfect individual shade. The store also boasts a private room with three make-up stations for those seeking a more exclusive setting.
