CIGAR CLUB ROSSO | AGRESTI

Masculine, singular. Cigar Club Rosso by Agresti references the sophisticated elite atmospheres of the late 1800s, those moments of gathering and conversation among men, epitomized by the ritual of the cigar. A tradition that is being rediscovered today, in terms of art, culture, relaxing moments. Agresti responds to this trend with an elegant humidor in red oak and mahogany, which adds a technological aspect to the tradition, thanks to the opening mechanism with a keyless card and RFID. The inner chamber in finest cedar contains removable trays and a built-in drawer, while another small compartment is placed inside the swivel base. A German hygrometer and LED lights offer the final touch for a product designed for pleasant convivial or personal moments.
